The Fort Wayne Sentinel.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1850.

Mr. V. B. PARKER, Tribune Building, New York; Third and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia; and Scollay's Building, Boston, is Sub-Agent for the Sentinel in those cities; and is also authorized to receive subscriptions, advertisements, &c. on our account.

Ladies' Fair.—The fair and supper of the ladies of the Episcopal Church, on Thursday last, was well attended. The net proceeds amounted to $190, which will be appropriated towards providing a parsonage for the Rector.

Pork.—Hogs are in brisk demand in our city, with but light arrivals. Mr. P. F. Bailey offers to pay cash for 4,000 head. The price at present is about $3.00 for good hogs; heavy ones might fetch a little more, and light ones less.

Concessions.—There will not be much business done by Congress until after the holidays. Mr. Giddings has made a furious speech in opposition to the fugitive slave law; but it failed to create the slightest agitation—as will be seen by the following extract from the Washington Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun:

"Mr. Giddings made to-day one of his long, babbling speeches at the House, driveling and impudent, and voting against the Northern 'doughfaces.' The Northern members were usefully employed in writing letters to their constituents, reading newspapers, and carrying on instructive conversations among themselves. For the 'novelty of the thing,' a few Southern members, and the press, are 'on the go' again. What little opposition he has, as a demagogue, he owes entirely to the kindness of his Southern colleagues. The abolitionists will sooner shake the columns of the Capitol than the fugitive slave bill."

It is thought that all efforts to revive the negro excitement in Congress this session will fail. The members are heartily sick of the subject—they had enough of it at the last session to satisfy them, and have no disposition to meddle with it further. There is a large amount of unfinished business on their files, to which it is to be hoped they will give their whole attention, and not needlessly consume the time of this short session by the revival of this threadbare subject.

HENRY CLAY NOMINATED ONCE MORE.—Apostacy of General Cass.—Mr. Foote, in his speech made at the City Hall, New York, stated that Gen. Cass had become a partisan of his old opponent, Mr. Clay. His words, as we find them reported in the Tribune, were these:

"General Foote complimented the Union Trinity, Clay, Cass, and Webster, for their services on the Committee of Thirteen. When it was told to Gen. Cass that the prospects of the committee would finally lead to the election of Henry Clay to the Presidency, Gen. Cass, with great good feeling, was perfectly willing to support such a nomination for the success of the Union party. The narrative of General Foote was listened to throughout with the utmost attention, and he was frequently applauded."

If this be true, and General Cass has expressed his willingness to cut loose from the democratic party, and go over to "the great embodiment" of whiggery, under the shallow device of building up a "Union party"—when it is well known that no other than a Union-party exists in the country—in the free states, at least—if this be so, the sooner we cut loose from him and let him go adrift, the better it will be for the prospects of the democracy and the country. Such one idea Hunkerism is entirely out of place in the democratic ranks. We trust, however, the General has been misrepresented, and has never expressed any such feelings as are attributed to him—never a word so open a design to go over to the enemy and betray the party which has done so much for him. It is due to his former friends that his true position on this question should be clearly and accurately defined.

NORTH CAROLINA AND THE NORTH.—Important Movement.—A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of North Carolina, laying a tax upon all articles manufactured at the North and brought into the State for sale. The law is to remain in force until the fugitive law is carried into effect throughout the United States, and until all the territories of the United States are opened to the people of North Carolina to carry thither any species of property they may think proper. The act is to be transmitted to the Governors of the other Southern States, with the request that similar laws be passed in each state.

We look upon as a very short-sighted and foolish movement—like most of the other performances of the southern ultra. The measure, if practicable and constitutional, which we much doubt—would only injure themselves, as the tax would of course fall upon their own shoulders. The old whig doctrine, that duties are paid by the manufacturers or importers is now fully exploded, and all experience shows that they are in reality paid by the consumers. This thing of the North Carolinians taxing themselves to spite the north, is about as sensible as it would be to bite off the nose to spite the face. But even if it were otherwise, this is a game that two can play at; and if the threat could be carried out, the northern states would be sure to retaliate by levying similar taxes upon the productions of the south seeking a northern market. In either case it would be a losing business for the vagrant southerners.

A similar act of folly is also contemplated in Virginia, and we believe some of the other southern states, but we do not think it will be adopted.

TERMS.—One Dollar per annum; Four copies for Three Dollars; Nine Copies for Six Dollars.

A New Volume will commence on the 1st January. Subscriptions will be received at this office.

WODWORTH'S YOUTH'S CABINET.—This is one of the best and most instructive periodicals for the young. It should be found in every family—and we are confident that no parent who once subscribed for the Cabinet would ever regret it, or allow his children to be without it. It is published monthly at $1.00 per annum; four copies for $3.00; seven for $5.00. See prospectus in another column.

Proposition to Increase the Army.—General Winfield Scott's report of the army is published in the Intelligencer. He recommends the organization of two additional regiments of horse dragoons or mounted riflemen, and an increase of infantry. He deems this increase indispensable for the protection of the frontier.

Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention.—We have not room to detail at length all the doings of our Constitution-makers; nor do we think it necessary. Few of our readers would be much interested with a detailed account of all the motions made and amendments offered; and as to the speeches and debates, it is of course entirely out of the question to publish them—and better for the delegates that we should not. We shall therefore content ourselves with a brief summary of the progress made in the formation of the Constitution.

The preamble to the constitution and one or two sections of the bill of rights have been adopted, after a long discussion as to whether men were born or created. This was certainly an important point, and the public will rejoice to learn that their delegates have definitely settled the point. Men, it is decided, are created—babies are born.

The number of Senators and Representatives in the Legislature was, after three days' debate, fixed at 80 of the former and 100 of the latter—same as at present. The Senators to serve four years. The qualifications for the Legislature are—that the members be citizens of the U. S., two years resident in the state, and one year in the district they represent. A motion was made to strike out "citizen of the United States," and insert "qualified electors" lost—Ayes 48, nays 52. The Legislature to meet biennially at the Capitol, commencing on the first Thursday after the first day of January, 1852, but that the Governor may, if the public welfare require it, call a special session by proclamation. The pay of the members to stop if an organization is not effected in five days after meeting.

Mr. Giddings made to-day one of his long, babbling speeches at the House, driveling and impudent, and voting against the Northern "doughfaces." The Northern members were usefully employed in writing letters to their constituents, reading newspapers, and carrying on instructive conversations among themselves. For the "novelty of the thing," a few Southern members, and the press, are "on the go" again. What little opposition he has, as a demagogue, he owes entirely to the kindness of his Southern colleagues. The abolitionists will sooner shake the columns of the Capitol than the fugitive slave bill."

It is thought that all efforts to revive the negro excitement in Congress this session will fail. The members are heartily sick of the subject—they had enough of it at the last session to satisfy them, and have no disposition to meddle with it further. There is a large amount of unfinished business on their files, to which it is to be hoped they will give their whole attention, and not needlessly consume the time of this short session by the revival of this threadbare subject.

Holiday Presents.—We direct the attention of gentlemen wishing to make presents to their friends, to the advertisement of C. L. Hill, in to-day's paper. He has got a splendid assortment of Autographs and other beautifully illustrated works and an endless variety of Fancy Articles,—just the thing for the occasion.

Graham's Magazine.—For January is a splendid number, enriched with some of the best engravings we have ever seen in a Magazine,—and what more, the literary contents are way inferior to the pictorial. G. P. R. James, the celebrated English novelist, is engaged, exclusively, for this Magazine; one tale from his pen appears in this number. The pay of the members to stop if an organization is not effected in five days after meeting.

On the 11th December, Judge Borden moved a reconsideration of the vote adopting the Woman's Rights section, which motion is made the order of the day for Monday next.

The afternoon the section relative to the manner of passing bills came up. It provides that they shall be read on three different days in each House; unless in an emergency, two-thirds, by a yeas and nays vote, dispense with this rule, and that the vote on the final passage of every bill shall be taken by yeas and nays.

Mr. Holman moved to add that it shall require a majority of the members elected to both Houses to pass any law. Adopted, ayes 78, nays 40.

On the 12th the Convention discussed as to what room they should occupy when the Legislature assembled. The committee on that subject reported without recommendation or final conclusion. Mr. Badger moved that when the Convention adjourned Wednesday, January No. 1, be a perfect gem; its reading matter will not suffer by comparison with any of the higher-priced contemporaries. In fact we have always considered the Ladies' National as the most readable of the fashionable Magazines of the day. It is only $2.00 per annum for single copies, and for clubs still cheaper: three copies for $6.00; and eight copies for $10.00.

CHAS. J. PETERSON, Publisher,

We issue the Delinquent List on a supplement sheet this week. This is its last appearance—fact which we presume is gratifying to our readers as ourselves.

Delphi Paper Mill.—We are pleased to note that the paper mill at Delphi, which was consumed by fire some months ago, has been rebuilt by Messrs. Rinehart & Wood, and is now in operation. The last No. of the Delphi Times is printed on paper made by them, which we find to be of an excellent quality. As soon as we use up the inferior dingy-looking paper we procured in Cincinnati we shall lay in a stock of the good white paper made at the Delphi establishment.

The Bounty Land Bill.—It is stated that two-thirds of the members of Congress seem to have determined upon amending the Bounty Land law of last session, to allow the transfer of warrants before location.

Major Convicted of Misdemeanor.—The trial of Mayor Barker, of Pittsburgh, for misdeemeanor in office, resulted in his conviction, Col. Samuel W. Black, counsel for the prosecution, made one of the most powerful speeches ever heard at the Pittsburgh bar.

Holiday Presents.—We direct the attention of gentlemen wishing to make presents to their friends, to the advertisement of C. L. Hill, in to-day's paper. Address

GO. R. GRAHAM,
134 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia.

Virginia Senator.—The General Assembly of Virginia has re-elected the Hon. James M. Mason, a Senator of the United States, from the State of Virginia, for six years from the 4th of March next. There was no regular opposition of Mr. Mason, and no one else is nominated. The vote stood:—Mason 112, Summers 36; Witcher 4; McDowell 2.

The Canal.—Great complaint is made by the people in this section of the State, regarding the conduct of the "Bondholders" and their Agents, to whom the Wabash and Erie Canal has been transferred, in part liquidation of our State Debt. That these complaints have only had attention after tamely submitting to a long series of impositions, cannot be questioned. When the "Buller Bill," a bill originally intended to relieve the State from the incubus of her outstanding debt, received the sanction of the legislature, and the approval of the Governor, it was confidently believed by the people, that its provisions would be faithfully executed, had it been otherwise, those foreign bankers who have been speculating in our State Stock to the manifest detriment of the original holders and the State, would have been relieved of the "care and anxiety" of conducting the affairs of the canal and the State have maintained their credit at a point equally as flattering as at present. But, as it is, all efforts to make good the loss, and to restore the bondholders to their original position, have been fruitless. The Canal, as it stands, is a burden to the State, and the State has been compelled to incur a heavy expense in maintaining it.

The Eagle.—We know well enough the source whence this attack upon Gen. Lane and his myriad of friends in Indiana and elsewhere proceeds. It is no other than the notorious Colonel or Dr. Bowles, of the second Indiana regiment, a very sanguinary friend of whom is the editor of the Eagle. That this man and probably the half dozen scoundrels who revolve around him, will never support Gen. Lane, is perhaps more a matter of rejoicing than of regret; and the democracy of Indiana may felicitate themselves upon the fact that, as in 1848, they have Bowles opposed to them.

We note not that the article of the Eagle which he caught up and circulated far and wide by the whig press, and put forth as containing the sentiments of a large portion of the democracy of this state, we should not deign to notice it even thus far. It is enough to stamp its paternity, to destroy any evil consequences which might follow its publication.

Gen. Lane was nominated for the Presidency by the democratic members of the Legislative, with a unanimity unexampled in the previous history of our State. Those who knew

Gen. Lane best, were foremost in pressing his claims. Many of them were men who had had much experience in governmental affairs, who had seen much of the world and of the prominent men of the nation, and knew their respective qualifications for the exalted station of First Magistrate. Since then Gen. Lane

has been exposed to the discharge of his enemies in the discharge of his duty as Governor of Indiana, and has been persecuted, harassed, and persecuted by the enemies of the people, and by the enemies of the State, and by the enemies of the country, and by the enemies of the world, and by the enemies of the race, and by the enemies of the human race.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1860.

Mr. V. B. Parker, Tribune Buildings, New York; Third and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia; and Scollay's Building, Boston, is Agent for the Sentinel in those cities; and is alone authorized to receive subscriptions, &c., on our account.

Ladies' Fair.—The fair and supper of the ladies of the Episcopal Church, on Thursday last, was well attended. The net proceeds amounted to $190, which will be appropriated towards providing a parsonage for the Rector.

Punk.—Huge a wine barrel demand in city, with but little arrival. Mr. P. Bailey offers to pay cash for 4,000 head. The price at present is about $200 for good hogs; heavy ones might fetch a little more, and light ones rather less.

Congress.—There will not be much business done by Congress until after the holidays. Mr. Giddings has made a vigorous speech in opposition to the fugitive slave law; but it failed to create the slightest agitation—as will be seen by the following extract from the Washington Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun:

"Mr. Giddings made today one of his long, eloquent speeches in the House, dividing, attacking, declaiming, and protesting against the Northern 'doughfaces.' The Northern members were usefully employed in writing letters to their constituents, reading newspapers, and carrying on instructive conversations among themselves. For the novelty of the thing, a few Southern members listened to the performance of Mr. Giddings. What little reputation he has, as a demagogue, he owes entirely to the kindness of his Southern colleagues. The abolitionists will sooner shake the columns of the Capitol than the fugitive slave bill."

It is thought that all efforts to revive the negro excitement in Congress this session will fail. The members are heartily sick of the subject—they had enough of it at the last session to satisfy them, and have no disposition to meddle with it further. There is a large amount of unfinished business on their files, to which it is to be hoped they will give their whole attention, and not needlessly consume the time of this short session by the revival of this threadbare subject.

HENRY CLAY NOMINATED ONCE MORE.—Abortion of General Cass.—Mr. Foote, in his speech made at the City Hall, New York, stated that Gen. Cass had become a partisan of his old opponent, Mr. Clay. His words, as we find them reported in the Tribune, were these:

"General Foote complimented the Union Party, Clay, Cass, and Webster, for their services on the Committee of Thirteen. When it was told to Gen. Cass that the prospects of the committee would finally lead to the election of Henry Clay to the Presidency, Gen. Cass, with great good feeling, was perfectly unprepared, expressing his perfect willingness to support such a nomination for the success of the Union party. The narrative of General Foote was listened to throughout with the utmost attention, and he was frequently ap-

"pealed to by General Cass, who expressed his willingness to cut loose from the democratic party, and go over to 'the great embodiment' of whiggery, under the shallow device of building up a 'Union party'—when it is well known that no other than a Union party exists in the country—in the free states, at least—if this be so, the sooner we cut loose from him and let him go off, the better it will be for the prospects of the democracy and the country. Such one idea Hankinson is entirely out of place in the democratic ranks. We trust, however, the General has been misrepresented, and has never expressed any such feelings as are attributed to him—never avowed an open design to go over to the enemy and betray the party which has done so much for him. It is due to his former friends that his true position on this question should be clearly and accurately defined."

North Carolina and the North—Important Movement.—A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of North Carolina, laying a tax upon all articles manufactured at the North and brought into the State for sale. The law is to remain in force until the fugitive law is carried into effect throughout the United States, and until all the territories of the United States are opened to the people of North Carolina to carry thither any species of property they may think proper. The act is to be transmitted to the Governor of the other Southern States, with the request that similar laws be passed in each state.

This we look upon as a very short-sighted and foolish movement—like most of the other performances of the southern ultra. The measure,—if practicable and constitutional, which we much doubt—would only injure themselves, as the tax would of course fall upon their own shoulders. The old whig doctrine, that duties are paid by the manufacturers or importers is now fully exploded, and all experience shows that they are in reality paid by the consumers. This thing of the North Carolinians taxing themselves to spite the north, is about as sensible as it would be to bite off the nose to spite the face. But even if it were otherwise, this is a game that two can play at, and if the threat could be carried out, the northern states would be sure to retaliate by levying similar taxes upon the productions of the south seeking a northern market. In either case would be a losing business for the sagacious southerners.

A similar act of folly is also contemplated in Virginia, and we believe some of the other southern states, but we do not think it will be adopted.

Texas.—One Dollar per annum; Four copies for Three Dollars; Nine Copies for Six Dollars.

A new volume will commence on the 1st January. Subscriptions will be received at this office.

Woodworth's Young's Gazette.—This is one of the best and most instructive periodicals for the young. It should be found in every family—and we are confident that no parent who once subscribes for the Cabinet would ever regret it, or allow his children to be without it. It is published monthly at $1.00 per annum; four copies for $3.00; seven for $5.00. See prospectus in another column.

D. A. Woodworth, Publisher, 118 Nassau-st, New York.

Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention.—We have not room to detail at length all the doings of our Constitution-makers; nor do we think it necessary. Few of our readers would be much interested with a detailed account of all the motions made and amendments offered; and as to the speeches and debates, it is of course entirely out of the question to publish them—and better for the delegates that we should not. We shall therefore content ourselves with a brief summary of the progress made in the formation of the Constitution.

Delphi Paper Mill.—We are pleased to announce that the paper mill at Delphi, which was commenced by some months ago, has been rebuilt by Messrs. Hinckley & Wood, and is now in operation. We issue the Delinquent List on a supplementary sheet this week. This is its last appearance—a fact which we presume is as gratifying to our readers as ourselves.

The Bounty Land Bill.—It is noted that two-thirds of the members of Congress seem to have determined upon amending the Bounty Land law of last session, to allow the transfer of warrants before location.

Major Convicted of Misdeameanor.—The trial of Major Barker, of Pittsburgh, for misdeameanor in office, resulted in his conviction. Col. Samuel W. Black, counsel for the prosecution, made one of the most powerful speeches ever heard at the Pittsburgh bar.

Holiday Presents.—We direct the attention of gentlemen wishing to make presents to their friends, to the advertisement of C. L. Hill, in to-day's paper. He has got a splendid assortment of Antuchs and other beautifully illustrated works and an endless variety of Fancy Articles,—just the thing for the occasion.

GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE for January is a splendid Number, enriched with some of the best engravings we have ever seen in a Magazine, and what is more, the literary contents are no way inferior to the pictorial. O. P. R. James, the celebrated English novelist, is engaged, exclusively, for this Magazine; and one tale from his pen appears in this number. The pay of the members is not affected in five days after meeting.

On the 11th December, Judge Borden moved a reconsideration of the vote adopting the Woman's Rights motion, which motion made the order of the day for Monday next.

In the afternoon the section relative to the manner of passing bills came up. It provides that they shall be read on three different days in each House; unless in an emergency, two-thirds, by a yes and nays vote, dispense with this rule, and that the vote on the final passage of every bill shall be taken by years and nays.

Mr. Holmes moved to add that it shall require a majority of the members elected to both Houses to pass any law. Adopted, ayes 78, nays 40.

Address.

Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine.—This favorite Magazine commences the new year under most favorable auspices. The January No. is a perfect gem; its reading matter will not suffer by comparison with any of the higher-priced contemporaries. In fact we have always considered the Ladies' National as the most readable of the fashionable Magazines of the day. It is only $2.00 per annum for single copies, and for clubs still cheaper: three copies for $5.00; and eight copies for $10.00.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 3, 1850.

Dear Sir:—A series of resolutions were offered by Mr. Raritan, of Wayne, on the subject of the agitation growing out of the recent acts of Congress, commonly known as the compromise measures. They were on the floor Saturday laid on the table, after much debate. This morning the same subjects came up for the action of the convention, on an amendment introduced by Mr. Owen, and offered to be accepted by the mover. Other amendments were offered by Mr. Keeler and by Mr. Holman. After much discussion, Mr. Owen, by consent, substituted resolutions more condensed. The object of the original resolution and Mr. Owen's amendments were to express the opinion of the delegates that the people of Indiana decidedly condemned the agitation of all questions having a tendency to dissolve the ties of this glorious Union. Some gentlemen say that this is not the place nor the appropriate time for these resolutions to be introduced; that we cannot here for a specific purpose—that of amending an organic law; but it is a waste of time to bring such matter before the convention. Their position I do not attempt to controvert. Others, and among them several leading democrats, say that it is not inappropriate; others take the ground that they are before us, and we ought to meet the question fearlessly; while others say they will not be forced to vote on this subject by any rule or order. Several attempts were made to avoid the question, by motions to lay on the table, indefinitely postpone, &c., which were unsuccessful. I dislike this kind of avoiding responsibility, or dodging any question when my name is called in my hearing, or leaving when they are about recording the ayes and nays.

Several of the proslavery members thought, if we refused to act on these resolutions, it would be received abroad as an opposition to the recent acts of Congress; would be laid hold of by the fanatics north and south, as additional fuel for agitation; and while they could not approve of many of the details of the fugitive slave law, yet while it remained, as it was the law of the land, it ought to be carried out in good faith. I regretted the introduction of the resolutions, at the time and place, as it created a very unusual excitement. A member had the floor; as he could not be heard, amidst cries of "order," "go on," "go on," etc., the President adjourned the convention until to day (Dec. 3) at 9 o'clock. A.M. After reading the journal this morning, a hurried note, proposed some questions. Mr. Owen about boundaries of Texas, &c., will be the first to discuss them; that he would go back to his own masters, leave the house, and return when they resumed the duties for which they were sent, and not before. So retired, amidst cries of "go," "go," "consent." Soon after, the resolution was passed by a large vote.

I regretted the occurrence, or that a member would become so excited. Let the majority act, and those opposing it do it freely, mainly and in a proper spirit; but not injure themselves by too hasty or irritable feelings. After this was over, a calm succeeded, and we passed some two or three articles. I trust a sense of the kind will not again occur.

You will see by our proceedings that the terms of office, in most instances, are shortened, and a clause inserted of insufficiency to be re-elected more than once, until they are out of term.

Yours,

ALLEN HAMILTON.

Mr. THOS. TEEKE.

The Evening Star makes but little progress for which it was brought into existence—During the short time there seems to have been an increased interest gained. It is a good day's work should be performed on one day, it is generally set down as certain, that it will be kicked over the next.

There seems to be no disposition on the part of Delegates to yield anything—every one must have his own way. There are about 40 reports from the standing committees touching the various measures or proposed reforms, at ready for the calendar, awaiting the action of the convention, about two-thirds of which are not yet touched.

N. B.—The No. 12, (that concerning the Legislative Department,) is now under consideration. The Bank question (not touching the Grand Jury inquiry, and the negro question, still on hand) nothing has been done with the great questions of judicial reform, education, and many others which must necessarily be carefully and patiently considered.

Well may the convention, under these circumstances, shut down every proposition, looking to adjournment, immediate or remote. There will be no Constitution completed for weeks from this date from present appearances.

—Sunday Evening Post.—The Evening Star has been refusing to pay society on its notes for some time past, unless on small amounts of $10 or $15. The Bank keeps up a small show of appearances by keeping their doors open one or two hours per day. But few of its notes are in circulation in that vicinity, however, there must be a lot of it out somewhere.

N. B.—The Evening Star is still in session, and when you enquire what they are doing, the answer is, that they are getting three dollars a day each—good—better, than that du nothing.—Winkett Patriot.

Diamonds.—A party left the State of N. Mexico, in July last, under the lead of three Americans, in search of the "Land of Precious Stones," known to the ancient Aztecs and lost by their conquest by the Spaniards. It was an ill-assorted party, and as nothing has been heard of them since, and anxiety has been felt for their fate. All that was known of their course was, that they had made an uninhabited region, about the junction of the Colorado of the West with the Gila, and that destination, and it is feared the Indians have stolen them, considerably this side of the Gila, while yet in the wilder districts of the Mexican territory. In Arizpe, and other places in that direction, there is a general belief that diamonds are to be found on the Gila river, and it is believed that the chief of the mining expeditions to their existence.

The Hungarian Refugees.—The Hungarian Refugees in Turkey, we are glad to learn, will soon be liberated. Kossoff will go to London, and Count Bachiany, and Mr. Perceval to Paris. The Emperor of Austria has so far relented towards Hungary as to grant a full pardon to all the Hungarian officers who will join the corps before the end of March.

MARRIAGE : WHY SO OFTEN UNHAPPY. THE CAUSES AND THE REMEDY!

Most and many a wife endures years of bodily suffering and of mental anguish, prostate and helpless, submitting her life, that of her husband, and leaving the future welfare of her children, arising from causes which, if known, would have spared the suffering, the anguish to the wife, and to the husband, embarrasments and pecuniary difficulties having their origin in the mind being weighed down and increased in consequence of the gloominess of the conditions of his life.

How important that the cause should be known to every wife, to every husband, that the dreadful and baneful consequences to the health and happiness of both may be avoided! Life is short and health the principal part of the one to be spent without the full enjoyment of the other.
The timely prevention of a little work entitles the wife to the means of saving the health and the life of thousands, as over.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND copies have been sold since the first edition was published.

The author has been induced to advertise it by the urgent and pressing request of those who have been led to its publication for so long time that they now have opportunity of obtaining it, and who have favored him with thousands of letters of recommendation, some of which are annexed to the advertisement.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MATTHEW.

RECEIVER OF DISASTERS TO WOMEN.

Second Edition, 1849, pp. 250. Price, $1.00.

THIS WORK IS INTENDED ESPECIALLY FOR THE MARRIED, or those compromised in marriage, it is directed to all medical scenes which occur in their domestic life.

It treats of female—the wife, the mother—the older husband, his wants, and the one in the decline of years, in whom severe conditions are experienced; also of the wife, the mother, the wife of the aged, infirm, feeble, and most certainly of care, in every complaint to which she is subjected.

The publications emanated in its pages have served a purpose in the medical literature which no other writer's has paralleled by the works published.

SICKLY AND UNHAPPY WIVES.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Dayton, O.

May 12, 1850.

The Dr. A. M. Matthew's "Private Medical Companion" for the Married wife to your address, came today to hand. I would not have troubled you with these few lines, but, having been recommended by a several friends for a self-preserved, can give utterance to my hearty thanks for your exertions.

My wife has been powerfully affected for some years past, in consequence of her great exertion and suffering, seems to be but slightly improved, and I regretted her putting her life in dangerous hands, and who was the last occasion, desperately. I imagined that this state of things was irreversible, and rendered me hopeless, but you have done much more than I could have expected, and I am now greatly relieved.
